

T4T and Mascoma Bank team up for New Americans tech education

Monday March 16, 2020

TECHNOLOGY FOR TOMORROW (T4T) is pleased to announce that it has received a $1,500 grant from Mascoma Bank to provide technology education and workshops for New American learners enrolled with the U. S. Committee on Refugees and Immigrants (USCRI).

With the prevalence of technology in daily life and with the growing populations of New Americans in Vermont, collaborative partnerships such as this between T4T, USCRI, and Mascoma Bank are of the utmost importance. These partnerships enable important learning opportunities for New Americans in locations convenient to them as T4T brings laptops to each session for easy access to needed learning equipment. The skills learned in these classes and workshops will foster new career opportunities and personal fulfillment, easing the transition into life in Vermont. The grant from Mascoma Bank will ensure that this critical program will continue to be delivered successfully.

Technology for Tomorrow, a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization, empowers people in need by providing affordable technology education and supporting skills through various local, state, and national collaboration efforts, in order to help individuals reach their professional and personal goals.
